An Insane Seaman Makes a Jurget of His

The man who plays white in office and colored out of office has lost his occupation.

New York, April 3.—The Nova Scotlan bark J. H. Marsters salled from New York March 29 on a voyage to Demarara, and returned to port yes-terday afternoon in search of police assistance and the services of a surgeon. On the night of March 29, about sixty-six miles east of Montauk Point, Capt. McNeil came on deck to take a look at the weather, which was some what hazy at the time, and called to the mate to bring the fog horn. The captain had hardly stepped outside the companionway when Seaman W. Holzheur, who was at the wheel, drew a revolver from his pocket and fired five shots in rapid succession directly at the captain, every one of which took effect. One ball entered the captain's face just below the right eye; one hit him in the neck, a third in the thigh, another in the left shoulder, and the other in the arm. The captain, who was dazed by the suddenness of the attack, and the rapid firing of the revolver, fell prostrate on the deck. The mate rushed to the rescue of the master and disarmed the wouldbe assassin, securing him before he could do further damage. Capt. Mc-Neil's wounds bled profusely before they could be bandaged by his wife, who was on board. Although he is very weak, none of the wounds is considered dangerous. Holzheur was immediately put in the irons and confined in the lazaretto. He is a native of Germany, about twenty-nine years of age. When seen yesterday afternoon he stated that he had no recollection whatever of shooting Capt. Mc-Neil, and appeared to be dazed. He was turned over to the police authorities of Stapleton, S. I.

BLEW UP HIS HOUSE. Schmuda Roped to Kill Himself and the Man Sent to Arrest Him. Dunkirk, N. Y., April 2 — Joe Schmuda, an Austrian, put a dynamite cartridge in the stove of his resi dence on Pangolin street, this city, last night and blew himself up. Policeman Otto Walters was entering the house at the time with a warrant for Schmuda's arrest. Schmuda's in-tention was to kill himself and the policeman. In his own case he has probably succeeded, but Policeman Walters, although badly shaken up and slightly bruised, says he is all right. When the explosion occurred the policeman had his hand on the door. The next instant he found himself on his back in the street, forty feet away. Schmuda was taken from the ruins to Police Headquarters, where a surgeon discovered that the wounded man's body was a repository for fragments of the stove, tin utensils, wood and ashes of the weight of several pounds. Schmuda attempted to kill his wife and drove her from home early in the day, and the warrant of arrest was on that account.

MINERS BURIED.

Deadly Result of a Giant Powder Explosion

Prescott, Ari., April 3.-One hundred pounds of giant powder exploded in the Ohio mine of the U. S. Mescal Mining and Milling Company late yesterday afternoon. Five men are supposed to be fatally wounded. Three men have been rescued severely injured. James Newline, foreman of the mine, is the most seriously hurt. The explosion caused a cave-in of 100 tone or more of rock, and the other two men were buried in this debris. The miners set at work immediately to remove the rock from the drift to reach the imprisoned or buried men.

St. Louis, April 3.—Charles A. Day shot George Thorn through the breast and shoulder, inflicting fatal wounds. The scene of the tragedy was in Louis A. Cella's saloon, Twenty-first street and Washington avenue. Day is under arrest, but before being rescued by the police from his pursuers, he came near being lynched by the friends of Thorn.

A FEARFUL WRECK. A British Bark Goes Ashere and Her

London, Dec. 31.—The British bark

Osseo was wrecked in a gale at Holy-head yesterday morning, and with her perished her entire crew of twenty-six men. The Osseo was driven ashore back of the Holyhead breakwater. Her signals of distress were first heard by the coast guard about 4 o'clock in the morning. At that time it was pitch dark, and great waves were washing over the breakwater. In spite of the danger of being washed into the sea, the guard proceeded along the breakwater, and, having rigged up the rocket apparatus, began firing life lines in the direction of the wreck. The faint light of the rockets soon disclosed the fact that the vessel had broken in two amidships, and that the main mast had fallen, crushing the lives out of several of the crew. A few survivors could be seen clinging to each half of the vessel, and their piteous cries for help could be heard above the roar of the storm. After many fallures the coast guard succeeded in firing a line over the wreck, but by that time all on board had perished. A lifeboat vainly tried again and again to approach the wreck. Not a vestige of the bark could be seen to day, and there is no prospect of any salvage. The Osseo was a bark of 1,399 tons. She arrived at Falmouth on December 15 from Taltal, and had been ordered to Anderson. Reserve of stormy weather Anderson. Reports of stormy weather continue to be received from all parts of Europe. Numerous small wrecks and casualties are reported in Great Britain and Ireland. Many lives were eaved by lifeboats. A severe gale is blowing on the Baltic, and navigation is suspended at Copenhagen.

An Understanding Between Lexow and

New York, Dec. 31.—In an interview with a Tribune reporter, Dr. Park-hurst was asked: "Have you an idea from reading the testimony of Supt.

Byrnes that there was a previous understanding between the Superintendent and the Lexow Committee?" He replied: "There is not the slightest doubt about it. In fact, I am free to say that I know some time ago that standing involved the manner in which Mr. Byrnes was to be treated. Just what the understanding was I decline to state, but I knew that Byrnes was not to be badly damaged. I first made not to be badly damaged. I first made up my mind that there was an understanding when I heard that Byrnes was supplying the committee with information. My sentiments in regard to Mr. Byrnes are the same now as they always have been. I have been fighting Mr. Byrnes three years, and he has been fighting us, and I am firmly of the conviction that if I care for the safety of our organization I canthe safety of our organization I can-not afford to become allied with the enemy in any way, shape or manner. I look upon Supt. Byrnes as a consti-uent part of a system that is corrupt, and for that reason I do not believe it is wise to have any dealings with him."

Watertown, N. Y., Dec. 31. — Lee Ling, a Chinese, aged eighteen, who had been a prisoner in the county jail here since November 19 on a charge of assault, committed suicide in his cell yesterday afternoon by hanging. SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1895.

OUR INCARCERATION.

Whatever the results of our recent trial were, there is one proud satisfaction, we have the indorsement of a grateful people and of the all-powerful press of this city and the country.

A man may make mistakes in his lifetime but those mistakes are the result of his anxiety to save an injured people and to vindicate a struggling race which has been recently emancipated.

The verdict of a jury is not always right; a verdict of the popular masses is above all. It is better that a victim be acquitted by the people than be acquitted by twelve men who do not express the will of the people. The American people are peculiarly constituted; the masses beheve in having bonest and good men controlling their affairs

Every American Negro is not sentimental; to a great extent it is the office-seeker or those bolding an office. Some believe that the removal of one of their number from office is suicidal to the race no matter what his offenses may be. The average American Negro editor does not hold to the view that a man's color should be a bar to his condemnation.

Was the cause of the editor of the BEE a just one?

[It is an apprehension too true that a just and righteous expose of public or private wrongs will even tually be demonstrated. What apology shall we offer?

The people no doubt will make it in a manner that will put to shame those who played the coward and sacrificed their bonor and manhood.

from a diseased brain and men whose sole ambition and desire have been to misrepresent the race.

A man who has the re utation of being a deserter is a coward in the eyes of the race and an imposter on the people. When we see such a man holding up to scorn and ridicule honorable and honest men it is not surprising that we see them sacrifice every principle of honor, integrity and honesty for

This has not been the mission of the BEE during its thirteen years of existence.

Whenever fraud or corruption has shown itself the BEE has had the temerity to expose it be the cost what it may.

No editor is ever injured because he exposed that which he believed to be right and just.

It is only the base soldier who becomes elated over the defeat of bis brave captain; it is a foul plea that be makes to the prosecuting officer who is often led into a snare to carry out, as he thinks, the ends of justice. He is honest in his belief that he is satisfying an injured people, but in after ages, in the hour of remorse, history shows that it was a conspiracy and an imposition upon the government. By the fear of the blandishments of official power that spark of man-hood has been obliterated; he sees approaching him the official lash and hides his head behind a shield only made for cowards.

He falsifies his former position and deserts from the field of battle, like the timid Greeks from Thermopole.

In future ages when we turn over the leaves of history and read the accounts of the fallen braves our eyes will fall upon these thoughts as expressed by Dessalaines:

"That wavering is cowardice and desperation makes men brave; that the arms of the oppressors, however great in number, cannot prevail with the desperation of the

· There are two great principles in the life of man; one is to subdue him and the other is to whip him. A person temporarily subdued is not whipped. No great principle ever dies. This American government was founded upon a great principle and one of the greatest and fundamental principles of its constitution is that the liberty of the press shall not be abridged.

While that is true the press should not maliciously libel a good citizen.

The charge to the jury by the court was in conformity with the principle of law and the emphasis and repetition of the court's charge left nothing upon which the defense could expect a verdict. The facts in the other libel suit were different from the recent one. Judge McArthur in his charge to the jury said : "If there is any thing in the case at all, gentlemen of the jury, it is that the prosecution lacks moral virtue," or words to that eff-ct. So all judges in a cause for libel do not instruct a jury alike. No matter what the opinion of a jury is the instructions of the court will carry great weight.

TO PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRANTS.

If it is true that Gov. McKinley's managers are trying to shut the negro out of the Republican party, they had as well give up the job as hopeless. The Southern Republican party can't shake the negro, on the same principle that the tail can't shake the dog .- Savannah

The defeat of several candidates for nomination, of both parties, who sought to pander to the prejudices of certain elements in their parties and ignore the interests of the great voting element, ought to open the eyes of certain men who would be statesmen were it not for their short-sightedness. The sugarplanters' interests were well taken care of by the Republican party when in power, in gratitude for which they voted solidly with the democratic party in 1894 and against their own interests. The lily-white republican element of the South, it seems, cannot forget the lost cause. They cannot affiliate with the republican party if the negro must be recognized. They cannot bear to have the bated negro rise to any importance in the body politic. Any candidate for any office deserves to be and ought to be defeated who will prostitute his abilities and pander to an element who is so hide-bound in prejudice that it cannot overcome it sufficiently for self-interest Republican candidates, take warning! No republican president will be elected without the negro vote.

THE NEGRO PRESS.

A feeling of sympathy is expressed by the negro press of this country for the editor of the BEE. There may be one or two editors who are no doubt elated over the imprisonment of the editor, but that bad feeling only comes from men who have felt the sting of the Bee either through its columns or at one of the association's meetings. The putative blame for his nonconfirmation it editor of the Star of Zion is about the only one who has shown his animus to any extent, and his reason for that is the lashing the Bee gave him at the late Chicago convention during be mentioned for the Army chapthe world's fair.

There is one thing that some negro editors must learn, and that is the art of journalism. Some of them are more sentimental than they are honest. A conviction of libel is no crime. Some of our ablest journalists have been prosecuted for libel. We thank the knights of the quill for their sympathy and appreciation, and hope to meet you all at the next meeting of the association.

OUR THANKS.

The editor of the BEE wishes to tender his thanks and profound appreciation to his many friends who have remembered him while behind the bars. He apprecates their visits and their many letters of sympathy.

The next meeting of the National Press Association will conv ne in Baltimore, Md. It is the object of the executive committee to make it one of the largest and most representative gathering ever held in this country. President Dancy will issue his call some time in June.

Editor T. Thomas Fortune will te one of the bright lights at the next association meeting as well as the young astute politician of the "Philadelphia Tribune."

When the people are with you it is the best evidence in the world that you have struck a popular chord.

So ne of the knights of the quill have nominated Hon. Robert T. Lincoln for President.

A man who doesn't know where he stands politically, has monumental gall to ask a democratic administration for an office. "What fools these mortals

It looks as if a dark horse will be nominated to lead the republican party in '96, and that dark horse points to Robert T. Lincoln.

The editor will be liberated from his forced retirement soon, and then the BEE will be a paper indeed.

There should be a monument to John Brown, who has been more benefit to the negro than any negro dead or living

Editor Thompson, of the Chronicle, in reply to a tempest in a teapot, has given some of his contemporaries to understand that he is in the right.

The oration on the 16th is to be delivered by Mr. Jesse Lawson. The BEE would suggest to the speaker to interject a few suggestions how to improve the condition of the negro in this city.

The man who thinks that he has his fallen foe fooled is very often mistaken. Sooner or later he'll jump into his

You may take the history of many of the great negroes of the race and in no instance can be shown that their life's work has been for the race. It has been for self and nothing more.

A negro who is of the opinion that colored women are not good enough for him to marry should look to that race with whom he has cast his lot.

WE ARE MARCHING ON.

[Special to the BEE.]

St. Louis, Mo., Apr. 5, 1895. At the municipal election held here this week Mr. Moses Cravens, a colored man, was elected a member of the city council from the fifteenth ward. It is the first instance in the history of St. elected to such a position.

A QUESTION IN DISPUTE.

Mr. B. says: "Congress failed to serve the people, but will serve their end on the 4th of March, 1895." Mr. C. says: "The above is not correct. Congress served the people for twelve long months, but bad."

Second dispute.

Mr. B.—"But the administration was not in it." Mr. C.—"The administration was ln it, but got mixed up.

Now, who is correct? S. D. WEBB.

SPRING TAILOR GOWNS.

Tailor gowns prepared for southern and transcontinental trips are of lightweight mixed cloths in great variety. Tweeds, cheviots, and boucle fabrics. rather coarsely woven, and in quaint mixtures—dots, dashes, and indistinct checks—showing a good deal of black and white with brown or green, are the materials most used. The suits are in two or three piecesthat is, skirt and coat, or skirt, coat, and waistcoat Skirts differ in no re-spect from those in vogue during the winter. Though there is considerable variety in cut, the effect achieved is the same in all—a close, trim appearance in front and on the sides, fitting perfectly with the fullness in the back held in two or three plaits, very narrow at the waist line and broadening out below.

Bright, changeable taffetas are the first choice for linings; thus a mixed cheviot of black, white, and green is colored covert-cloth, with old-rose taffeta; a brown, blue-shot tweed, with bluet, etc. Black serges and crepons are also lined with these bright, fancy silks, which are now so inexpensive that the With kind remembrance to a fashion is not so extravagant as former-grateful public, believe me to be, Yours truly. The binding should be of velveteen, and it is better to buy the piece goods and cut it at least two inches wide on the bias. It may form a cord on the bottom filled with candlewicking—a much more pliable and graceful "stiffener" than rattans or wires—and should always be left to show like a piping be-low the gown fabric; otherwise it affords no protection. Waistcoats are both grave and gay, matching and contrasting. Those of rich black moire and brocaded satin find a distinct place, and are in much favor with fastidious women who shun any-thing conpicuous; but novelty seekers admire a bright red waistcoat with green or blue cloth, and chamois-color with gray or black; and there are many hand-some waistcoat cloths of silk and wool in brocaded matelasse effects that contrast or harmonize with the gown. Coats are double or single breasted, giving only a glimpse of the linen or cambric chemisette at the throat, or are cut away to disclose a waistcoat, and fasten with one or three buttons. The skirts are usually cut on, and have easy fullness, but not the umbrella flutes of last season. There is great variety in length. Every woman will look most chic in that which is most becoming.—From "Review of Fashions," in Demorest's Magazine for March.

COLLATION.

Mrs. Mary J. Kinloch, of Philadelphia, was tendered a collation by her friends last Friday evening, at the residence of Miss Emma Thompson, 1642 Tenth street. The programme of the evening consisted of recitations, singing, music and dancing. A sumptuous feast was spread in the dining-room, and toasts and merriment were indulged in. At a late hour the company dispersed, bidding the guest of the evening bon yoyage.

Our churches, societies, and clubs that intend giving excursions and picnic parties down the river this summer will have two of the best equipped and safest boats on the Potomac River to select from, and both of them owned and controlled by colored companies, so there can be no complaint about color prejudice if you give them the patronprejudice if you give them the patronage they deserve. The thousands of dollars we formerly spent to enrich the white boat companies we can now spend to enrich ourselves.

One of our most promising young business men is Mr. William Coleman of Capitol Hill. He has a well-stocked grocery and provision store on C street southeast, and is very much encouraged with his business prospects. Will is a fine young man and deserves the patronage he so liberally receives.

The little shop around the corner is the name so often applied to the barber shop of Mr. Moses Payne on Four-anda-half street, between Pennsylvania and Missouri avenues nw. One visit will suffice to make you call again. His assistant tonsorial artists are Messrs. Streets, the expolice officer and Nelson Streets, the ex-police officer, and Nelson and Poland.

A LIBERAL ORGAN OFFER.

That there has been a revolution in the manufacture of Organs and Pianos is evinced by the current offer of Cornish & Co., the well known manufacturers of Washington, N. J. For the next 60 days they offer to sell an organ or $42.50, which a short time ago would have been considered a desirable bargain at $75.00. With this they offer terms of credit that are sure to meet with the enverse of every few minded. with the approval of every fair-minded person. Cornish & Co. are the largest makers of Pianos and Organs in the world selling direct from the factory to the home. Since the conception of this great business, nearly thirty years ago, they have been fighting the method of selling instruments through agents and dealers, their plan being to give the enormous profits usually retained by the tradesman to the buyer. Their efforts to place first class instruments within the reach of all, at manufacturer's prices and the most liberal terms, deserves the highest commendation. Every one who is contemplating the purchase of an Organ or Piano, should The Daily Globe was a thing on It illustrates and describes all the latest paper.

PRINCE BISMARCK.

The Celebration of the Eightieth Anniver

Hamburg, April 1.-To-day is the Hamburg. April 1.—To-day is the eightieth anniversary of Prince Bismarch's birth. There are 6,000 students gathered here to take part in the procession. On all the houses in the city flags are displayed. Many of the shop windows are converted into small temples for the glorification of Bismarck. In these busts of the ex-Chancellor surrounded with suitable decorations and inscriptions are to be seen. To-night Roman candles will be burned on the roof of the Bourse for two hours. In the centre of the for two hours. In the centre of the inner harbor a hundred barges are stationed, from which fireworks will be set off. The special features of this display will be Bismarck and the Bismarckian coat of arms in brilliant More than 2,000 rockets will be fire. More than 2,000 rockets will be fired from the quays.

The police stopped all traffic after 7 o'clock this morning. At that hour 4,000 students from the universities assembled in the Moorweide, and at 8 o'clock they started on their march to the Kloster-Thor station, where they took a train for Aumehele. At 9:30 last night the city presented a fairy-like spectacle. The roadways were crowded with sightseers, and in some crowded with sightseers, and in some places almost completely blocked, es-pecially in and around the Zoological Gardens, where the students had a

The Body of a Colored Woman Found with New York, April 1.—The body of a young colored woman was found in an alley in the rear of the New York Bank Note Company's building, corner of Sixth avenue and Waverly place, yesterday morning. The legs of the woman were cut off above the knees and with the body were wrapped up in an old table cover, a piece of carpet and an old rug. Around her neck was tied a string made of cheese cloth, double-knotted. This was the immediate cause of death. A scrap of paper bore the name of "James (or Jane) Surindel", Rahway, N. J." The police have no clew.

Children Who Bark. New York, April 1.-Sadie Brown, thirteen years old, was brought to Bellevue Hospital by her mother, Mrs. Mary Brown, of No. 762 Third avenue, child suffered from hysteria and barked like a dog. While in the re-ception room of the hospital she had a fit, and her barking and struggles created excitement. Two weeks ago her brother George, eleven years old, was brought to the hospital suffering from a similar attack. He was discharged as cured after a short confinement.

Another Cigarette Flend Dead. New York, April 1. — Edward J. Wilkins, a paper-box manufacturer, of No. 118 West Eighty-third street, died from heart disease caused by ex-cessive cigarette smoking. Wilkins was a hard worker. He spent Friday night over his books and did not retire until late. He became ill. Physicians were summoned, but he died before their arrival. Wilkins smoked from five to six packs of cigarettes every day.

Berlin, April 1. — The French and German foreign offices are exchanging communications as to the conduct of French telegraph officials. The German Embassy in Paris learned facts which proved almost conclusively that its cipher messages to Berlin were copied at the French office and efforts were making to translate them.

Imprisoned Americans.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 1.—Passengers from Santiago de Cuba report that two American citizens are dying in prison in that city. According to the passengers' story the imprisoned Americans have all the passports and papers required by law, and their in-carceration is considered an outrage.

Bangor, Me., April 2.—Maine Central train No. 93, which left Bangor at 6:45 o'clock this morning, carrying local passengers to Old Caribon, crashed in-to train No. 64, the night express from St. John's, N. B., which was ninety minutes late. The collision occurred on a down grade, three miles above this city. The out-going train was a heavy one, drawn by two engines. The conductor had orders to cross the St. John express at Venzle, one mile be-yond where the accident occurred, but the conductor of the express had received no crossing orders, and there-fore supposed he had the right of way as usual. As it happened, both trains were running slowly at the time of the collision.

The three engineers and the three firemen jumped, and all escaped with bruises, except James Ward, of Bangor, fireman of the express, who was caught beneath the debris of a postal car which shot out past his engine, and was instantly killed. Baggagemaster Eben Shaw jumped and was saverely hurt. Postal Clerks Caleb F. Palmer and Fred S. Woodbury, of Bangor, were buried in the wreckage. They were crushed, and were rescued with difficulty. Four Mon Fatally Injured in a Freight

New Comerctown, O., April 2.—Four men were probably fatally injured in a freight wreck on the Pan Handle Railroad near here. The injured are: John Wilson, Oscar Hurzey, William Mercer and Willis Berkahire. The men all stood on the end sill of a car in the centre of the train. As the train approached the siding to wait for the limited, the engineer made an emergency stop. The force broke a car coupling just in front of the car the men were on, and they fell to the ground. Wilson went off to the left side and was twirled into the ditch. A car overturned upon him, and had it not been for the excavation he would have been crushed to death. Internal injuries make his recovery hopeless. Berkshire was pinned to the rail on the other wide and in try. the rail on the other side, and in try-ing to pull his legs loose found them both off below the knees. Hurzey's right arm was broken in two places. Mercer had a shoulder badly crushed and has internal injuries. Three cars were smashed and several others dam-

Said to Have Admitted That There Are

Great Abuses in Armenia.

Berlin, April 2. — The Koelnische Zeitung professes to have the best au-thority for the statement that the Sultan of Turkey has told Sir Philip Currie he is convinced that lamentable misgovernment exists in Armenia and is determined to reform the abuses. London, April 2.-The Daily News correspondent in Constantinople says: "It is reported that the Porte Intends submitting to the foreign envoys a scheme of Armenian reforms, namely: Two or three provinces shall be united under a Governor-General beneath whom fifteen Armenians, who have studied in a State school, shall serve as carmakans, while ten Turks shall serve as mutessarifs. It is stated that the Governor would be either Turkan Pasha, late of Crete, or Chakir Pasha, late Ambassador in St. Petersburg. It is said that Von der Goltz Pasha will organize a gendarmerie compe Christians and Mussulmans."

GEORGE GOULD SETTLED.

Widow of the Man Killed by Ris Special

Wabash, Ind., April 2. — George Gould, of New York, has paid $1,600 in settlement of the suit for damages against the Wabash Rallroad brought by Mrs. George Jones, whose husband was run down and killed by Gould's special at Roan, this county, October 21. The train was running rapidly, and as a slight rain was falling Jones had the side curtains of his carriage up and did not see or hear the train, which struck the carriage, killing him and both horses. George Gould, who was on his hunting trip West, got off and made careful inquiries regarding Jones's family. A damage suit was brought for $10,000, and the Wabash company offered to make up the difference between $3,800 and $5,200, the widow's demand.
